

Think your Diabetes keeps you from saving lives through blood donation?

THINK AGAIN!

You can still donate if:

You have Diabetes Mellitus, and you are on oral hypoglycemics, or insulin (must have eaten since last dose), and your dosage is controlled and stable.

Please note that you are permanently deferred if you have Diabetes Insipidus, or have taken bovine derived insulin in the past.